are called by God and empowered by the Holy Spirit to represent Christ by:

- witnessing together to God's redeeming love. (adopted April 28, 1991)

Reflections on General Synod

The theme for General Synod 28 was Imagine What's Possible. That is just what each congregation in the York Association is called to do. The experience of General Synod is energizing. Everywhere you went you were energized with new ideas to bring back to your local church and you were encouraged as a delegate to share what you learned with the churches in your particular Association as well. The workshops were informative, the plenary sessions went smoothly, the keynote speakers were dynamic, the music was inspirational and the worship services were moving and Spirit led. I would gladly come to any church event and share what I learned at General Synod 28. You can reach me at 717-542-8214 or LRD574@aol.com. Grace and gratitude, Lee Ann Strine - Faith

This year's 28th General Synod in Tampa, Florida, may have been the least contentious of all the Synods I have attended as a delegate or visitor (six). For example, a resolution supporting The Right of LGBT Persons to Adopt and Raise Children was passed by a unanimous voice vote, and a resolution calling for international LGBT rights was supported by 98% of the delegates. The most controversial piece of business was about changing our form of governance. The amendments approved by the delegates to GS28 will combine the five current governing boards into one 52 member United Church of Christ Board, but only after two thirds of the UCC Conferences also ratify the amendments.

One of the more interesting matters which came out of this Synod was the formation of a national Theological Forum. After some considerable concerns were expressed about whether a Theological Commission might be tempted to pronounce mandates about what we believe in the UCC, the Committee which worked on this resolution changed the name of the group from Commission to Forum. It is my hope that this will provide a place where some of the less dominant theological viewpoints in the UCC can be expressed and heard, something I am not sure we have done well in the past.

Three new Collegium Officers were elected - the Rev. J. Bennett Guess as Executive Minister of Local Church Ministries, the Rev. James Moos as Executive Minister of Wider Church Ministries, and Mr. W. Mark Clark as Associate General Minister. A new electronic voting system caused some considerable consternation until everyone learned how it worked. Ultimately it seemed to allow for quicker votes than in the past, when tellers were used to hand count votes.

Navigating Life's Last Stages

Emmanuel United Church of Christ of York invites all interested persons to attend a four-session program entitled "Navigating Life's Last Stages: What Do I Need to Know and Why?" Most of us enter unknown territory when an illness or situation arises that creates the need to make difficult decisions concerning care surrounding imminent death. Confronting these issues not only helps to clarify matters for the one facing death, but gives much needed direction to family and loved ones who may not know what that person's wishes may be. Preparing advanced directives and providing the opportunity to share personal wishes with one's family can enrich the last stages of life. The program will offer the following:

Funeral Arrangements - Sunday, September 18, 2011 - 2:00PM - Mr. Mark Harris, author of Grave Matters: A Journey Through the Modern Funeral Industry. In addition to the traditional choices, more recent alternatives such as "Green Burials" will be explained.

Advanced Directives - Sunday, October 23, 2011 - 2:00PM - Many people believe the assistance of an attorney is necessary to prepare Advanced Directives. This is not the case. Diane Gerhart, the Education Coordinator from the Palliative Care Department at York Hospital/WellSpan Health will explain these directives and the options they present. Forms will be available and assistance provided for those interested in completing them.

Support Systems and End-of-Life Care - Sunday, November 13, 2011 - 2:00PM - Dr. Dominic Glorioso, Jr. DO. will offer guidance in how to bridge the gap between the medical community and Hospice. What are the different facets of palliative care? How do we begin family conversations during this difficult time? How do we cope with role reversals?

All sessions will be held at the Yorktown Community Center located at 1059 Kelly Drive, York, PA 17404. Pre-registration is not required; however, knowing how many plan to attend will be helpful in preparing the amount of materials needed. Please email eucc_york@yahoo.com or call Emmanuel UCC at 717-801-1082 to express interest in attending any or all of the sessions. Visit our website for directions. <http://www.emmanuelnyork.org>.
